Subject: Trees are good. Trees are healthy

Gday,

I'm a horticulturist and conservationist and 28 year resident of Adelaide. Trees are stupidly, stupidly important in a way that is impossible to quantify. Infill development is slashing green space, displacing wildlife and heating up our city in an already warming climate. Trees indirectly save lives in so many ways. It's very depressing to see arborists wave through the feeling of large trees. Anyway I'm on my lunch break but I really really hope that our tree laws can be improved. I do not want to live in an unshaded, dry, hot city. It pays to leave trees where they are. We can build around them. Please leave corporate interests behind if they are a factor, and be strong proponents for a healthy humanity. We need trees. Please do everything to protect them.

Yours sincerely,

Mitchell Skinner
