

A GUIDE TO DEMOLITION CONTROL FOR HERITAGE IN THE NEW PLANNING SYSTEM

In the planning system the topic of 'demolition control' is often talked about in relation to heritage buildings.

Demolition control refers to the criteria that ensures any proposed demolition of a heritage building is appropriately assessed with the right authorities involved.

The new planning system aims to strengthen and transition current demolition controls while bringing consistency and fairness to the way these matters are addressed across the state.

