To whom it may concern,

I am appalled at the proposed changes to the planning and reforms and their potential impact on residential areas and the environment.

While I am not always happy with local government decisions, I am concerned that this legislation pushed through as a parting gesture by John Rau, is to benefit developers and those on the approval and consulting groups. They have no concern for the environment and are only interested in profit, which I have no doubt they will benefit.

As it was a Labor Government initiative, so I'm not surprised that the labor opposition isn't interested in revoking the legislation that has been withdrawn else. In Victoria this legislation did not pass. However, I am disappointed in the State Liberal governments lack of action on this complex and worrying legislation and believe it will be their undoing in the next election, once we start to see the impact in our local areas.

As a swinging voter, you should be very afraid of voters like me who are over the major parties. Heavy handed tactics such as this will have significant impact and bear testimony to poor decisions that will be monuments to future generations of your folly.

Yours faithfully,

Lee-Ann Hunt
