95%of Black Forest is zoned Suburban Neighbourhood.About 3% General Neighbourhood. I live in Aroha Tce in the 3%. It makes no sense to me. We have been joined in with a small section of Everard Park that is situated on the northern side of the tram line. It is a separate suburb to ours.

the proposed zone does not even include all houses in the section from South Rd to Selkirk avenue. The last 2 houses are classified Suburban, the rest General.

there are only 2 houses on Aroha Tce that have not been subdivided, one is my home that has developments either side and at the rear so there seems no need to classify our small section as Residential.

the 3% includes a section of Lincoln Ave and Forest Ave but not all of those streets.

I think the small section of Black Forest that has not men included, should be zoned Suburban Neighbourhood.

thanks
